

Young Minds Need Books to Grow.

Healthy Families:

read together every day fill their homes and lives with books share their world every day through words; talk to your child, even your baby know that play equals learning visit the library often

